

Artist Statement

Vincent Van Gogh thought that he was not a big deal, especially since he only sold one painting in his whole short life. I wanted dedicate this to one of my favourite painters who is sadly not with us, the idea that his paintings and his letters to his brother Theo (who was his best friend and took care of Vincent financially) that he will never be forgotten. I wish he was still alive and I wish that he didn't die young to know that he is loved by a lot of people and he an icon. The idea of Sisyphus is used like a loop, just like how life is a cycle/ Van Gogh till eternity, will be loved... countering his last words "this sadness will last forever", his paintings and his letters will last forever and will be loved by future generations to come", just like how my mother was in love with his work growing up..so am I at the present time.
